

Introducing a Unique Professional Exchange for Midwives in Independent/Private Practice

USAID's Private Sector Partnerships-One project has created a professional exchange for midwives in developing countries who are in independent or private practice. You are invited to join this exchange and participate regularly.

What is the Purpose of this Exchange?

Our mission is to assist midwives in independent practice to strengthen your practices, improve the quality of the care you provide, share your experiences, and learn what others are doing that works. Thus, we have created a unique online space where you can find contacts, resources, experts, event information, and discussions about topics of interest to you.

How Can I Participate Online?

By signing up today (instructions to the left), you may access the online space at any time. There you'll find the beginning of what we hope will grow into a very valuable resource for midwives globally. You may participate in email discussions about your practice needs, and find expertise on topics of relevance to you. For example, we will cover topics like:

- New tools and approaches to improve the quality of your practice
- Contraceptive updates and new products
- Developing a business plan
- Improving your credit

How Can I Participate by Phone?

We are determining the feasibility of interactive dynamic phone discussions with you as well. Please let us know your ideas on this.

To Join Our Professional Exchange:

Visit www.PSP-One.com 'Midwives Exchange' for more information. If you have not yet received a user name and password for this space, please send an email to info@psp-one.com with your name, organizational affiliation, email address, and telephone number. We will create an account for you, and you will receive an email from us within about 2 business days.
