Jessica Greene, IPC Technical Advisor, AIDSMARK/PSI

Jessica Greene is the IPC Technical Advisor for AIDSMark at Population Services International. Since Ms. Greene joined AIDSMark in 2003, she has provided research and programmatic technical assistance to PSI's behavior change and interpersonal communication (IPC) programs globally. In addition, she has overseen the development of AIDSMark's core funded IPC and mass media initiatives including both the formative research and evaluation components. She comes most recently from the Horizons program at the Population Council. Prior to that, Ms. Greene worked with Helen Keller International on a multiple micronutrient clinical trial in Lombok, Indonesia. Ms. Greene received her MHS in International Health from the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health.
